Building resources considered

A conference on "Low Cost Housing in Appalachia" will be held in the Industrial Arts Building at Berea College on March 11.

The conference will start the third phase in a study of low-cost housing that is being conducted by Berea College and financed by a grant from the Office of Economic Opportunity in Washington.

Phase three will be to test, in an 18-county area, the feasibility of building the low-cost houses and the method of financing needed to make these houses available to low-income families.

Representatives of private lending agencies, governmental agencies, builders, dealers, contractors, state and local officials, and others interested in the project are invited to attend the conference.

The first phase of the Low Cost Housing study was to develop designs that could be duplicated throughout rural America, and to determine the most feasible and least expensive materials and construction methods. The second phase was the actual building of six prototype houses using these designs, materials, and methods, and a seventh house of conventional design and construction so that comparisons could be made.

Crash injuries fatal

Sp/4 William D. (Doug) Ratliff, 20, formerly of Linefork, was killed in an auto accident near Fort Benning, Ga., last week, relatives here have been informed.

He was a son of Bill and Verna Frazier Ratliff, formerly of Linefork and now of Lawrenceburg, Ind. He was a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Frazier of Linefork and Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Ratliff of Lawrenceburg. His wife is the former Linda Miller of Indiana; they were married last August. Other survivors are two brothers and three sisters, all of Indiana.

He lived 15 hours after the accident and two operations were performed, but he did not regain consciousness.

ORATORICAL CONTEST WINNERS--P. M. Hogg (above, right) is the district winner of the American Legion Oratorical Contest on "The Constitution--Our Tree of Liberty." He received a $50 savings bond from Douglas Day Post 152. Hogg is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Hogg and is a junior at Fleming-Neon High School. His speech teacher is Mrs. Lillian Webb. Hogg won the contest by defeating Sammy Hall, Jenkins, winner of the Jenkins Independent School District competition. He will go to Frankfort March 13 for the state contest. Hogg is shown with August Codispoti, commander of the Douglas Day post, which sponsored the contest. Young Hall (center, below) is shown with Tilden Crase (left), contest chairman, and Charles Raney of American Legion Post 86. Hogg won the county contest over William "Terry" Cornett of Whitesburg High School, son of Mr. and Mrs. Venters Cornett of Whitesburg.

Attempts to revive bill fail

Two attempts in the Kentucky legislature to revive the "Widow Combs" bill have failed.

The bill was tabled two weeks ago in a move which caught the Breathitt administration by surprise. The motion to table was made by Rep. Bill Jordan of Jenkins.

The bill would limit rights of mining companies operating under terms of the old long-form deeds to types of mining known when the deeds were made. In effect it would curb strip mining in Eastern Kentucky.

Plans were being made this week to introduce the bill in the Senate. It was the House which tabled it and refused to take it from the table for action.

Opponents of the measure are saying that if the government can come in and change their deeds it can come in and change any deed it cares to in the future. Supporters of the bill contend that the measure merely prevents strip mining companies from exercising rights which were never intended to be sold to them in the first place and that passage would not permit the government to change any deeds. It is the strip miners who have in effect changed deeds to suit their own purposes, they say.

Hazard-Whitesburg road to be paved soon

The Department of Highways at Frankfort will receive bids March 25 for surfacing on the Hazard-Whitesburg road in Letcher County.

The project will begin at Ky. 15 near Isom and will extend to the L&N Railroad crossing near the west city limits of Whitesburg.

Initial construction of the 7-mile stretch of road was begun last summer. It was the first "quick start" project under the Appalachian Regional Development Act highway program.

Board adopts garbage rule

The Letcher County Board of Health has passed a regulation governing the disposal of garbage and refuse in the county as the first step toward a county-wide clean-up campaign.

The regulation controls the establishment of garbage dumps and transportation of garbage to them and provides penalties of $10 to $100 a day for violations.

Sanitarian Charlie Hall said no citations will be issued under the new regulation until after the state highway department completes a county-wide pickup of trash later this month. After that, Hall said, violators of the regulation will be cited to appear in court.

Hall said the highway department trucks will begin work picking up trash in the county about March 15. They will make one trip a long each road with a number to pick up trash placed near the road for collection and will not back-track, Hall said. The pickup will begin at the Virginia line on US 23.

Hall said residents should begin now to place trash and garbage near the roadside where highway crews can get to it. Unemployed fathers' crews will assist in the pick-up. Hall said the garbage accumulated would be unsightly for a few days but would be taken away as soon as possible.

Hall also said that anyone who wants to get rid of a junked car should notify the health department. The highway department will haul away any cars on road rights of way, but owners of cars not on the right of way must sign permission for such cars to be hauled off.

Hall said the highway department trucks also will make door-to-door pickups of trash in all towns in Letcher County.

The pickup by the highway department is a one-time affair. The county and the health department hope to set up garbage route franchises or some other means of county-wide garbage pickup after the initial clean-up campaign is over.

Candidates announce for school board

Ray Back of Blackey announced this week he will be a candidate for school board member from Division 5. Back said he could work with Kendall Boggs, who will become superintendent of schools on July 1.

Kern Whitaker, the incumbent board member, does not plan to seek re-election.

Arnold Hall, present member from Division No. 1, does plan to run for another term.

Optioned

Letcher Fiscal Court voted this week to take an option on the J. R. Robinette property at Mayking as a site for a county highway garage.

The price for the property would be $15,000.

The land adjoins the state highway department garage in Letcher County and fronts on US 119. In earlier discussions concerning a proposal for a county highway maintenance garage, county officials had indicated they might be able to make use of some state repair equipment when necessary.

The court accepted bids on two new dump trucks for the county road department. Harlow Motor Company submitted the low bid of $3,225.53 each.

Student elected

Patricia Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Adams of Premium, has been elected secretary of the Young Republican Club at Eastern State College, Richmond. The club is the largest Young Republican Club on any college campus in the country.

ASCS in new office

The Agricultural and Stabilization and Conservation Service has moved its office into new quarters on the second floor of Craft's Department Store, with a street-level entrance from Hays Street.

This is next to the post office parking lot and ASCS has its own parking space directly in front of the office.

The special Burley Tobacco Referendum will be held Thursday, March 10, at the Big Field Grocery in Jeremiah. The tobacco growers will then decide whether farm marketing quotas will be established on both an acreage basis and a poundage basis during the next three years, rather than on an acreage basis alone. Under the acreage-poundage program the producer will have many advantages, the ASCS said. As a form of insurance against some of the hazards of growing tobacco, if less than the poundage quota for a farm is marketed in any year, the difference will be added to the farm's quota of both acreage and pounds for the next year. The law also provides that 20% more than the poundage quota for a farm can be marketed without penalty the first year acreage-poundage quotas are in effect and 10% after the first year.

To become effective, the referendum must have a "yes" vote from more than two-thirds of the total number of voters. It would then be effective for the 1966, 1967 and 1968 crops.

If the referendum does not pass, the present acreage allotment will remain in effect and all allotment farms not protected by the minimum allotment provisions will be 15% less in 1966 than in 1965. Under the acreage-poundage law the allotments will be increased 6.3% for 1966.

Drive-in won't reopen

The Elinda Ann Drive-In Theater will not open this year, owner Billy Wayne Wright said this week.

Wright said a self-service laundry will be opened in the theater's main building within the next few weeks.

To enforce fire laws

An all-out campaign against forest-fire law violators began this week.

District Forest Lyle Shoemaker said all Division of Forestry law enforcement officers, rangers and guards will be exerting maximum effort to enforce the forest fire laws.

The Division of Forestry will begin issuing citations to violators of forest fire laws. This is a new tool designed to speed up law enforcement, Shoemaker said. The citations will be courtesy citations to violators and will direct them to appear in court at a scheduled time and place. Warrants will be issued for those who fail to appear, and convicted violators will then be liable for court costs.

These are the forest fire laws most commonly violated:

1. No person shall set fire or cause to have fire set on any forest land not owned, leased or controlled by him.

2. During the periods March 1 through May 15, it shall be unlawful for any person to set fire to any flammable material capable of spreading fire located within 150 feet of any woodland or brushland EXCEPT between the hours of 4:30 p. m. and midnight or when the ground is covered with snow.

3. Between 4:30 p. m. and 12 o'clock midnight, it shall be unlawful for any person to set fire to any flammable material on land owned or leased by him unless he previously has taken all reasonable care and precaution to prevent spread to lands of others.

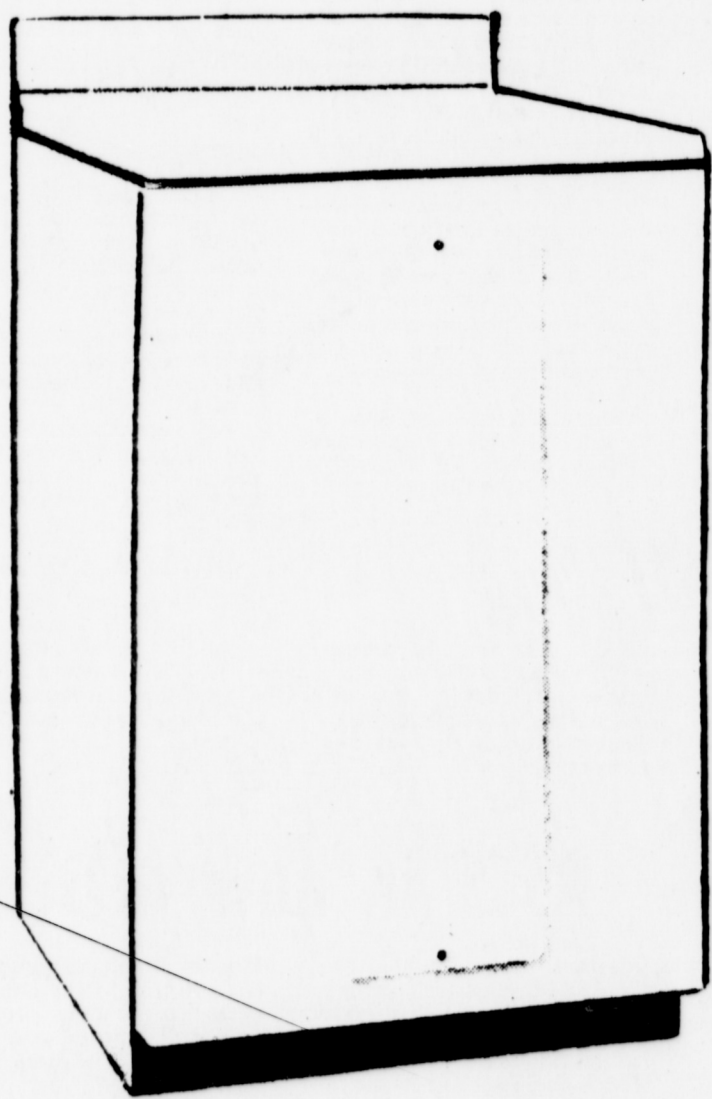

4. No person shall set fire to any forest land, hollow tree or stumps to capture or destroy wild birds or game.

Complete copies of forest fire laws and penalties for violation are available from the Division of Forestry.

Blackey TURKEY DRIVES OF OLD RECALLED

By LARRY CAUDILL

This was in the days before the rail roads and hard-surfaced highways. Drivers occasionally cruised the mountains buying up cattle, hogs, sheep and horses and mules.

Then there was the turkey drive. Curt Williams recalled an old-timer reciting his experiences with turkey drives.

Now, the turkey is not a very bright animal. In fact, the basic reason the wild turkey is almost extinct whereas it once was plentiful in the mountains is that the turkey is a little more stupid than the human.

It is quite a long trek from Letcher to Frankfort. The turkeys were apt to be quite footsore and weary by the time they were marched to market.

When the drover bought the birds he dipped their feet in heavy pine tar pitch to form a protective covering for the long walk to their own sad end.

"Sometimes I think us humans find ourselves led to the slaughter by as simple devices," said Curt Williams.

Getting some Caudills confused was not new to Mrs. Pauline Myers Poster of Louisville who had me mixed up with Harry Caudill. Recalling the time in the early 30's when she was Perry County public health nurse, she writes, "Your brother, Dr. Fred, once laughingly told me, 'Myers, you might as well stop trying to sort out the Caudills. If you threw a rock up in the air the chances are it would hit a Caudill in the head when it came down.'"

At its regular general meeting the Blackey Improvement Committee moved to co-operate with Dr. Richard Keeler, County health officer, and Sanitarian Charlie Hall in their cleanup campaign.

Dr. Keeler suggested a comprehensive testing of water sources in an effort to determine just how serious is the community's water problem. Chairman Verlon Shepherd told the neighbors that Dr. Keeler would like a sample of water from every household supply, whether it be a cased well, dug well, old mine or spring. Verlon agreed to procure from the health department containers for taking samples and sending them to the State Health Department laboratories in Frankfort for analysis. The sample containers would be handled through the Blackey Community Center. The householder would provide 25 cents to cover mailing costs.

"At least in this way we could find out something about the stuff we are drinking," he said. The sample containers probably will be distributed through the schools.

David Dixon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hale Dixon of Louisville and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Dixon of Blackey, brought his musical combo from Valley High School to play for the Pal Hop at the Blackey Community Center last week. Accompanying David besides his mother were Chris Campbell, Donnie and Ronnie Bowen, twin brothers, and Wayne Humston. And the local young people loved their music.

Alton Lee Cornett, who teaches in Ohio, was home for a week end with his mother, Mrs. Tessie Cornett.

Uncle Charlie Madden, who has been very ill, is with a daughter in Indiana.

Mrs. Nancy Caudill and her brother Mike Richardson of Williamsburg, stopped by to visit Mrs. Hettie C. Caudill. They accompanied the Williamsburg High School band for a series of concerts at Hazard. Nancy's son Pat Caudill plays in the band.

Ike Caudill, Letcher County poverty chief; Verlon Shepherd, chairman of the Blackey Improvement Committee, and the writer were at Pippa Passes last week for a conference with President Will Hays, of Alice Lloyd College, Vernon Cooper of Hazard and others on the project for a six-week summer school at the Stuart Robinson campus. The Upward Bound project would seek to keep many high school students interested in going on to college rather than dropping out. Alice Lloyd College would sponsor it.

SINGLE WALNUT LOG FROM LETCHER COUNTY VALUED AT $1,000; CARLOAD OF LOGS AT $600-$700 EACH

By LARRY CAUDILL

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cornett and son Duane of Dayton, Ohio, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Curt Cornett, and her mother Mrs. Liza Wilson.

Mrs. Astor Caudill celebrated her 60th birthday Feb. 19 as friends gathered for the cutting of a birthday cake at the home on Johnny Branch.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Collier of Radcliff, Ky., dropped by while visiting relatives at Eolia. Fred is in the military at Fort Knox.

Aunt Allie Dixon overheard young playmates--Allan Mullis, 5, sitting on a feed sack holding a tattered old newspaper upside down, "I'm readin'." Jimmy Smiley: "Aw, I don't wanna read. It's just about ol' bank robbers and things."

Tommy Ray Francis of New Albany, Ind., visited his mother Mrs. Volina Francis on Elk Creek to report the arrival of her grandson Feb. 14. Grandfather was the late Curt Francis.

Wayne Brown accompanied an ambulance to Lexington to bring back Amos Collins from a hospital. Amos was injured in a mine accident in November.

Gladys Buckhold and Elma Dixon planted peas February 21--and then discovered "the sign was wrong." I told them, heck, the peas don't read the almanac.

Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Back went to Lexington to take the latter to see a medical specialist. They visited her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Caudill, there.

The Genealogical search comes up anew. Mrs. Charles R. Fitzer, 4011 Lambert Ave., Louisville, Ky., 40218, wants to trace the Ben Webb line and her g-g-g-g-grandfather William Webb. She has been in contact with several possible sources of information including Henry P. Scalf, of the Floyd County Times, who is somewhat of a genealogical aficionado. He referred her to me. I barely know WHO I am and not at all WHY, but maybe some of you readers may be able to help. I am sending her letter on to Sam Clinton Webb, the Letcher County Tax commissioner at Whitesburg, in the hope that he can be of some help.

From her data thus far, her great-great-great-great-grandfather William Webb was born in Buncombe County, N. C., about 1776 and died in Estill County, Ky., at the age of 80. Her g-g-g-g-grandmother, Dorothy Winburn, also born in North Carolina in 1778, also died in Estill County at 80.

A single log of Letcher County black walnut was delivered to the Huff sawmill near here which was valued at $1,000, and recently a carload of black walnut was loaded at a Blackey siding. The timber reportedly is destined for a furniture factory in Milan, Italy, to be turned into veneer for furniture. The logs were valued at $600-$700 each. When one is turned into a walnut veneered dresser and brought back to Letcher County you would pay a couple of thousand bucks for it.

And just think of all the fortunes in timber that went out of these hills since you and I were young, Maggie.

If you like mountain music at its purest make a date for the Blackey Community Center for the Talent Show on March 12 at 7 p.m.

A little experimenting with square dancing and sock hops by the Blackey Area Improvement Committee reveals that there is a wealth of musical talent in the community, hence the Talent show to give the homespun artists a chance to show their skills.

Proven artists such as Lee Boy Sexton and his sons, 11 and 13 years old, of Ulvah, who form a fast trio on the fiddle, banjo and guitar; Vicky Fields, talented daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Fields of Jenkins, drummer; Deeb Hogg, virtuoso on the fiddle, banjo and mandolin; Fox Campbell, hoedown dancer; Joe Arnold Back, bass strings; Richard Cornett, guitar; Bill Bates and Dick Smith, square dance callers, are expected to appear.

There will be three cash prizes, starting at $10, for the performers.

Everyone is invited to enter with any specialty. Entry closing date is March 5 and entries may be made by calling Dorsey Back at 633-7354, Mrs. Victor Campbell, 633-2822 or contacting Boonie Barker at Campbell's Branch school.

DID YOU EVER SEE SO MANY TIN CANS IN YOUR LIFE AS WENT DOWN THE KENTUCKY RIVER RECENTLY?

By MABEL KISER

The biggest waters we have had in years have now receded. One thing we learned as Old Man River just kept rolling along was that about everyone in Letcher County--Letcher above Whitesburg, that is--eats from tin cans and throws the empties in the river. I never saw so many empty tin cans at one time in all my life. All the way down to Whitesburg the center of the river was literally full of empty food containers. I could not help thinking that if a lot of debris didn't fall by the wayside the Gulf of Mexico would be filled up within a week. Why do we do this? It is not only a health hazard, but it looks so bad. Empty tin cans when burned with paper waste will rust easily and are easily disposed of. Even if we are not able to have all our garbage hauled, it does not look so bad when piled into one heap and burned.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our many friends who stood by us in the hour of our deep sorrow in the tragic death of our beloved son, Bennett Holbrook, who was killed late in January. To all those who sent flowers, brought food and spoke comforting words to us in our darkest hour, may God bless each of you.

Alex and Maggie Blair Hall of Ermine celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary in February. When the children and grandchildren began gathering in with their beautiful gifts and their bountiful food supply the Halls were overjoyed. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Hall, Mike and Tim of Deane; Mr. and Mrs. Woodie Stone, Janet and Rod of Ermine; Mr. and Mrs. James B. Barnett, Alex, Carol and Sherry, Whitesburg; Mrs. Lily Mae Jones and Wanda, Jenkins; Mrs. Charles Holbrook, Dougie and Chris, Ermine; Mrs. J. B. Owens, Sheila, Larry and Hester; Mrs. Monie Owens, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Collins and Lucretia, and Mrs. Basil Hall, all of Whitesburg; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jenkins, Jenkins; Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Johnson, Weeksbury; Mrs. Virgie Hall and daughter of Ohio; Frank Hall and Denton Patterson of Wheelwright, and Elder and Mrs. Ismay Sparks and Elder Bill Sparks of Mayking. How wonderful to be married 50 years and still be young and alert enough to enjoy our children and their children for a visit.

We extend sympathy to the family of Mrs. Ervin Meade (Chigger) who died of a heart attack recently while washing clothes at the laundromat in Neon. Mrs. Meade is the former Darthula Hall, daughter of Mrs. Aggie Breeding and the late Hawk Hall of Hall. Besides her mother she is survived by her husband; a daughter, Mrs. Elmer Bates (Lady) of Cincinnati; a son, Herbert Meade of Frontwood, Ohio; five grandchildren; six brothers, Columbus, Will, Oscar, Buster and Erceel Hall, all of Hall, and Elder Lawson Hall, Kona; five sisters, Mrs. Zettie Hooks, Dry Creek; Evaline Hall of Halo; Lucy Collier and Daisy Hall of Hall and Sarah Jane Hall of Cromona. The Halls and the Meades are well known and respected families. Elder Hawk Hall was a Regular Baptist minister for many years and was well known and loved in Letcher, Knott and Floyd Counties.

Having frustrations? Read Amos 5: 18-21.

The poultry farm of the Roy Colliers at Hall was partly destroyed by fire recently. The fire was discovered by the man who worked for the Colliers about 3 a. m. They found where the fire apparently started but not how. Mrs. Collier received third degree burns on her hand.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Bentley have bought a lovely new trailer home which is set up between his parents' home and the home of his sister, Charlene McElroy.

What joys were ours when we celebrated our 12th birthday! What bright things to look forward to--not yet knowing that the anticipation of a thing is much greater than the realization and that tomorrow will not bring the perfection for which we hope. Such were the joys of Sheila Everidge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Everidge of Mayking, when she served cake and ice cream to her friends at her home not long ago. Among the guests were Sarah Devlin, Ricky Adams, Dorothy Hall, Herbert Bates, Kathy, Chucky and Ralph Colliers, Mike and Mark Craft, Woody Holbrook and Billy Hunsaker.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Joe Hall of Mayking is improved somewhat after a serious illness.

Mrs. Ivan Sparks of Sergeant has had the cast removed from her foot after having to carry the heavy weight for a long while.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Collier have almost completed the new bedroom they are building onto their home.

Blaine and I and Elder Ballard Meade, Mrs. Meade and Junior enjoyed a good dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Lawson Hall after attending church at Hemphill. I enjoy not only the good food but also the good talk we have after dinner.

We express sympathy to the family of Mrs. Lula Webb Taylor, who died at her home in Logan, W. Va., Feb. 12. Mrs. Taylor, who was 90, is survived by her husband, S. D. Taylor; a daughter, Goldie Aldridge, Millstone; a son, Raymond Webb, Man, W. Va.; a brother, Roy Webb; a half brother, Russell Fugate, also of Man; a half sister, Mrs. Maggie Sparks, Asheville, N. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Cole have returned to their home in Charlestown, Ind., after visiting here with her mother, Mrs. Otho Bentley, and other relatives.

Mrs. Dianah Hall, 86, is not doing at all well in the Whitesburg Hospital after being injured in a fall at her home several weeks ago.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Bentley are home after spending most of the winter with their children in Indianapolis and Ft. Pierce, Fla.

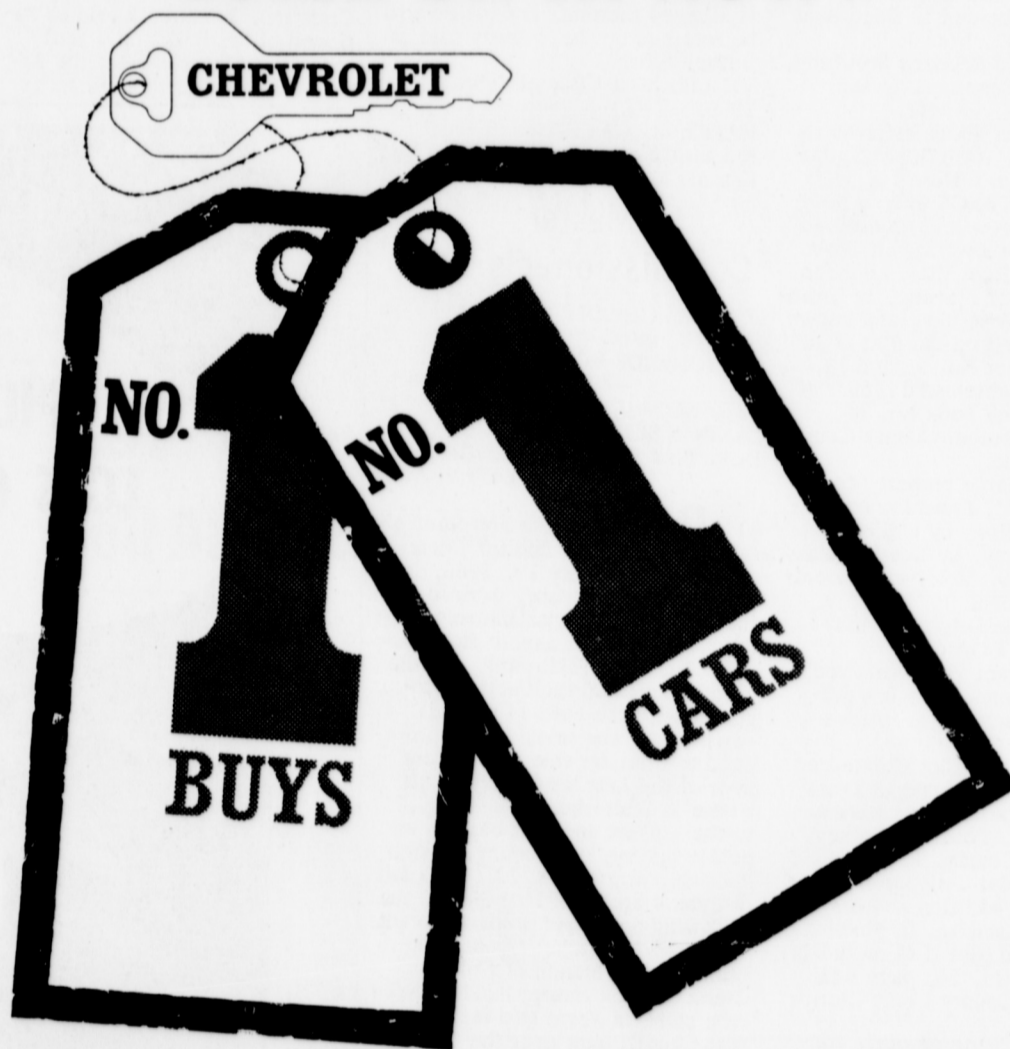

Mrs. Arden Gross is visiting in Ohio with her children.

home with her daughter, Grace Stone, and her husband. Woodrow Vance of Colson is very ill in the veterans hospital in Johnson City, Tenn.

Overheard on a typical cool February day: "I would much rather February would borrow from March as to have March borrow from April." Now, wouldn't we all?

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Raleigh visited in Louisville recently with their children, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kiser.

Michael Bentley was home from Eastern State College for a visit with his parents, the Kenneth Bentleys.

Miss Lynn Honeycutt had some X-ray pictures made of her foot after she injured it when she missed a step on the front steps of her home. The X-rays showed a hole in the bone of the heel which weakened the foot; the injured bone had probably always been there unknown to her.

Mrs. Earl Martin (Florence), formerly of Knott County, now of Whitco, broke her arm earlier this month when she slipped and fell.

Folks in and around Seco were sorry to have the Daniel Quillen Jr. family move to Huntington, W. Va. Mrs. Quillen is the former Doris Gibson. Mr. Quillen is an employee of Electric Machine.

While in Whitesburg a few days ago Mrs. Otho Bentley and I were glad to meet with Elder Lewis Craft of Hazard. He told us he has a new grandson, Mark Allen. The parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Craft of Ecorse, Mich. William is studying to be a chemical engineer. Another Craft son, Frankie, a soldier stationed at Ft. Polk, La., will soon be discharged from the Army. He has had three years at UK and will take up his studies there. He is studying to be an electrical engineer.

Mrs. Venson Caudill of Thornton called her son Billy Harold in Georgia and wished him a happy birthday. Mothers never forget.

Mrs. Dave Collier visited her mother, Mrs. Smith, in Seco.

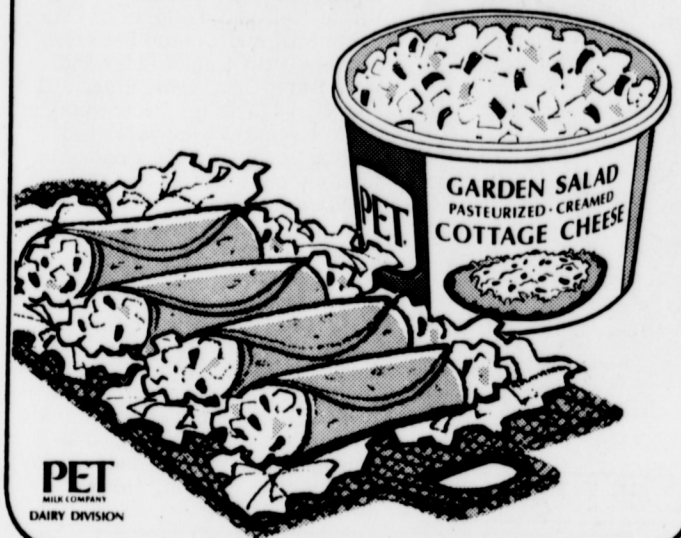

If it feels chilly and uncomfortable, just remember the cold wind will hold back the fruit and maybe we will have plenty.

We extend sympathy to the family of Rufus Daniels, 51, a veteran of World War II, who died in the veterans hospital in Michigan, where he had been a patient the last eight years. He was a brother of Bill Daniels, who lived on Millstone so long. He was never married. His body was kept at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Turner (Glenda Burrows). The funeral was held at the Bible Baptist Church on the Right Fork of Millstone, and burial was in the Whitaker Cemetery.

RESIDENTS OF RIGHT FORK PREPARE GARDENS FOR SPRING

By MABEL KISER
Spring time is here. It looks good to see farmers beginning to till the soil. Lettuce beds are many and I am sure so are the rows of peas. I was especially glad to see someone preparing to tend a garden in the head of the Right Fork of Millstone Creek. This is very fertile soil and I have long deplored the fact that the land lay idle.

Friends of Delia Meade will be sorry to learn that she is very ill from stroke in Whitesburg hospital. Her children are here this week to see her.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Bentley of Pekin, Ind., where here for a visit with her parents, the Harrison Gibsons of Haymond.

Kenny Johnson, young son of Neon's policeman and Mrs. Earl Johnson, is a very ill patient in the Whitesburg hospital. Kenny is suffering from a bone infection.

Uncle Enoch Collier celebrated his 85th birthday last week with his children and their children gathering to help him observe the day. Among those calling that day were Mr. and Mrs. Newt Collier, Mayking, and sons Palmer of Neon and Dave Collier of Millstone; Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Collier and sons David and Billy of Pikeville; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Collier of Hall and his only daughter, Myrtle, who lives with and takes care of her father. Uncle Enoch is in fair health and is alert.

Sam Sergeant of Democrat celebrated his 66th birthday this month. Mr. Sergeant and his wife have 11 living children. He is an employee of Bethlehem at Deane and never misses a shift of work. He is in good health, attends church every Sunday and most Saturdays, and goes to many funerals during the week, and is often found visiting the sick. Could this be the secret of his good health? He drives his own car and as far as I know has never had a serious accident. They reared a fine family and educated them all. What a record. It goes to show it pays to walk up-right.

Blaine and I and Mrs. Roy Wright and twin daughters, Amelia and Cecilia, all of Jenkins, enjoyed a visit with the Dave Colliers Tuesday evening.

Ewin Bentley of Deane received a severe foot injury last week on his job at the tipple of Beth-Elkhorn Coal Corp. His foot was caught between some couplings and crushed even through the safety-toe shoes he was wearing. Part of the foot was removed by surgery.

Friends of Aunt Flora Profit Stallard, 80, of Essersville, Va., will be sorry to learn she broke her hip in a fall in her home earlier this month after suffering a stroke. Aunt Flora was a sister to the late Bill Taylor who lived for years on Millstone Creek. She is from a family of 13--only four still living: Mrs. Belvia Evans, 78, of West Liberty; Perlle Hamilton, 76, of Essersville and a half brother, Willard Hall, 70, of Colson.

Me thinks that man will not set foot on the moon. Read Genesis 11; verses 5 through 8.

Mrs. Aggie Bentley is on the sick list this week.

Mrs. Rosana Sturgill Tyree is home after visiting in Covington with her children.

We extend sympathy to the family of Mrs. Patsy Sergeant of Jenkins, who died in a rest home at Lackey last week of cancer. Mrs. Sergeant, almost 84, lived for many years in Democrat before moving to Jenkins. She was well known and well loved by the citizens of Democrat and Millstone. She is survived by two children, a daughter, Mrs. Edna Cook of Jenkins, and a son, Roy Sergeant of Democrat, and several grandchildren. Her husband, West Sergeant, died several years ago. The funeral was conducted Thursday in the Polly and Craft Funeral home in Jenkins.

Parnell Johnson should file it with her at her home on Cowan Street in Whitesburg, Kentucky, on or before June 4, 1966.

Funeral services for Ira Johnson, 70, of Jenkins were conducted Feb. 19 at the chapel of Polly and Craft Funeral Home by the Rev. Walter Applegate and the Rev. J. S. Hale. Burial was in Powell Valley Memorial Gardens at Norton, Va.

Mr. Johnson died Feb. 16 at the Wise Appalachian Hospital. He was born at Mountain City, Tenn., and was a son of the late William S. and Marguerite Blevins Johnson.

If the first part of your car registration number is here, you might be a winner.

Here's how it works. Look at the first symbols (the prefix) on your vehicle identification slip. Then look at the symbols listed above. If you find yours on the list, you've taken the first step toward being a winner. Now go see your Buick dealer. He has a list of 72 winners posted in his showroom. If you see your entire vehicle identification number on the poster--the symbols plus the rest of the numbers--$2332 cash is yours. (If your prefix isn't listed in this ad, don't give up. Your numbers may have been posted during the past few weeks. And every week there are 72 new winners posted on the showroom wall. So watch for next week's list of new symbols in this newspaper.) No slogan to invent, no puzzles to solve. In fact, you don't even have to own a Buick to have a winning number. While you're in the showroom, get a good look at the Buick Special. The $2332.00* happens to be its price. *Manufacturer's suggested retail price for Special V-6, 2-dr. coupe. Price includes Federal Excise Tax and suggested dealer delivery and handling charge.

Contest Rules. Residents of Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska may, if they prefer, send in a postcard to R. L. Polk and Co., P.O. Box 1347, Detroit, Michigan 48231 and receive the weekly list of winning numbers by mail for comparison with their own vehicle identification number. An official entry form will be included. Sweepstakes limited to persons over 21 living in the continental U.S. Not valid in Florida or states where prohibited by law.

Mr. and Mrs. William Fannan (Frieda Kay Morton) were home from Williamsburg for a visit with her mother and step-father, Mr. and Mrs. Delza Bowen, and his mother, Mrs. Fannan of Sassafras. Mrs. Bowen's other daughter, Mrs. Patty Parks, called from Milan, Ind.

Edward Adams called from Indiana to ask about his mother, Mrs. Janey Adams, during all the cold weather. Mrs. Adams, almost 74, is doing fine. She lives alone and does all her own work. She lives right beside our other brother's home and he looks after her. The water pipes froze this winter and this is a hardship for anybody.

Sanford rites held

Funeral services for Mrs. Gabie Sanford, 68, wife of Love Sanford of Jenkins, were held Feb. 22 at the St. Paul Methodist Church. Burial was in the family cemetery at Jenkins.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Sanford is survived by a son, John Williams, Jenkins, and a daughter, Mrs. Inez Cornwell of Chicago.

Polly and Craft Funeral Home had charge of funeral arrangements.
